Genoa, June 26, N. S.

ON the 21st Instant M. de Gages reinforced his advanced Guard with 1000 Foot, and the same Evening removed the Head Quarters of the Army to Langasco, (a Village about two Miles upon the Bochetto) and 400 Mules for the Train arrived in St. Pierre d'Arena from Don Philip's Army. The next Day he received another Reinforcement of 1200 Horse from the Infant's Army, and upon a false Alarm the whole Corps was collected together at Campo Marone; and Orders were given that five Pieces of heavy Cannon, with six Field Pieces, should be sent to the Army, which has since been placed near the Head Quarters. The same Evening Advice came, that Lieutenant General Schulemberg had been reinforced by 6000 Sardinian Militia, and had removed his Head Quarters to Novi. He has detached 2500 Infantry and Cavalry to Voltaggio, and taken Possession of the Provisions and Forage there, and in the Lomellino, that was designed for the Spaniards, and planted six Pieces of Cannon between Gavi and Carosio, having advanced the Picquets to the Mills, three Miles on this Side Voltaggio. On the 24th Instant, about 2000 Infantry arrived from Don Philip's Army, and continued their March for the Head Quarters at Langasco; 3000 more, and 800 Cavalry, are expected in a Day or two from Savona, besides the Troops that are coming from Naples, 1200 of which, and sixty Mules, are arrived at Leghorn. This Week six Vessels from Porto Fin, Villa-franca, and Savona, arrived with six Cannon of twenty-four Pounders, two Mortars, ten Cases of Granadoes, and a few Bombs, and were landed this Morning, and sent into St. Pietre d'Arena, with all their Carriages, &c. Letters from St. Remo of the 22d Instant advise, that about twenty Sail of Vessels from Villa-franca, with Cannon, &c. appearing in Sight of that Place, standing towards this Port, his Britannick Majesty's Ship Feversham immediately cut her Cables, and chaced them, and it is reported here, has taken a Neapolitan and two French Tartans: The others are dispersed. The English Ships that are cruising on this Coast, detain all Vessels they meet with, that are laden with Corn, Wine, &c. bound to this Port, and send them to Leghorn. Don Philip's Army is marching to Savona; the Infant and Marshal Maillebois were expected to arrive there last Night; and it is said here, that the French Troops are to act jointly with those of Spain, and to march from thence to besiege Demonte and Coni, as soon as their Train arrived. This Republick continues their military Preparations with all possible Vigour; their Train of forty Pieces of heavy Cannon will be in Readiness to move next Week, and a Body of 6000 Men have received Orders to march in three Days Time; and it is not doubted but their Troops are to join M. de Gages's Army, in Consequence of a Treaty, which, it is said, has been concluded between them, France and Spain, and was signed this Week on their Behalf. It is also given out, that they have prepared a Manifesto, which will shortly be published, and that they will very soon declare openly against his Sardinian Majesty.

Venice, July 2, N. S. The Piemontese have destroyed a Magazine at Ventimiglia, and another at Albenga, and taken several Mules laden with Baggage belonging to Don Philip and Marshal Maillebois. It is reported here, that on Monday last the 23d, the Republick of Genoa was to publish a Manifesto, and that 10,000 of their Troops were to join the Spaniards the next Day, to which were to be added 3000 more that were in Garrison at Final.

(Price Four-pence.)

Journal of the Saxon Auxiliary Army in Bohemia, from the 2d to the 5th of July, N. S. dated from their Head Quarters at Johannisberg, near Konigingratz.

The 2d of July we continued in our old Camp near Konigingratz. In the Afternoon the Pruſſians detached ſome Foot and Huſſars to ſet Fire to a Farm near the Adler, from whence the Auſtrians for ſome Time paſt had daily carried off ſome of their Horſes. The Croats who were in Poſſeſſion of an Eminency near the Town, having diſcover'd the Corps of Pruſſians, and the Fire which was juſt breaking out, came down from their Poſt, and fell upon them with ſo much Fury, that, after having killed above 40, they drove them back to their Camp, notwithſtanding the Fire of a Pruſſian Battery which had been erected to ſecond their Attempt. The Croats loſt only three Men, and had a few wounded. We had Intelligence that a Body of Pruſſians, conſiſting of Horſe, Foot and Huſſars, was again poſted on the Side of Opoczna.

The 3d halted. We had ſeveral Accounts of General Nadaſti's Huſſars having taken ſome Part of the Convoys deſign'd for the Pruſſian Army, which were coming to them out of the County of Glatz. The Pruſſian Deſerters informed us, that another very conſiderable Detachment had been lately ſent from their Army into Sileſia: We wait for the Confirmation of this News from other Hands. Forty Deſerters together came in to Prince Charles's Quarters. The two Chiefs of the Combined Army went to view the Works which had been raiſed for the Defence of Konigingratz, and the Security of the Bridges, together with the Batteries erected in the Front of the Right Wing, in order to hinder the Enemies paſſing the River.

Upon the 4th halted. We had Advice from Colonel Bartoſzewitz, who with his Pulk, and Lieutenant Colonel Deſoffi with 600 Huſſars, the Whole ſupported by 1600 German Horſe, under the Command of Colonel Count Kollowrath, had been detached to purſue a large Body of Pruſſian Huſſars, who were ranging up and down the Country, and exacting Contributions where-ever they paſſed, that they had not been able to come up with the Pruſſians, though by keeping cloſe at their Heels they had obliged them to quit Bohemia; which they had accordingly done, and were retiring into Sileſia by the Way of Metterſdorff, which is ſituated in a Corner of Luſatia, and is the ſame Place through which Lieutenant General Einſiedel's Corps made their Eſcape laſt Year. The Duke went to reconnoitre the Poſition of the Pruſſian Army.

Upon the 5th halted. We had Advice that five Squadrons of Pruſſian Huſſars had attempted to paſs the River at Hohenbruck, but that having found our Men in Poſſeſſion of this Poſt, they had thought proper to return. One of our Parties took a Pruſſian Lieutenant Priſoner between Neuſtadt and Nachod, and 130 Horſes laden with Proviſions for the Enemy from the County of Glatz. Prince Lobcowitz, who arrived lately from Vienna, came to pay his Reſpects to the Duke of Weiſſenfels at his Quarters.

Journal of the Saxon Auxiliary Army in Bohemia, from the 6th to the 9th of July, N. S. dated from their Head Quarters at Johanniſberg near Konigingratz.

The 6th of July we continued in our old Camp near Konigingratz. The Pruſſians alſo remain'd in their old Poſition. We had Advice from Albrechtieza, that the Pruſſians had attacked, near Przepich, a Village not far from Hohenbruck, a Patroll of Rudniski's Pulk of Tartars, who having retired to a Poſt poſſeſſed by 100 Auſtrian Huſſars, the Pruſſians purſued and attacked them. In this Skirmiſh the Huſſars loſt an Officer and 12 Men, who were all made Priſoners. The Pruſſian Detachment amounted to 700 Horſe and Foot and Huſſars.

Upon the 7th halted. We had Advice that there had been a ſlight Skirmiſh between ſome Auſtrian Huſſars and the Pruſſians, theſe laſt having attempted to carry off ſome Forage near Hohenbruck, which however they did not ſucceed in. One of our Parties carried off 200 Horſes belonging to the Pruſſians. Count Khevenhuller, Grand Marſhal of the Queen of Hungary's Court, paſſed by with his Lady in their Way to Dreſden.

The 8th halted. Prince Lobcowitz came to the Duke's Head Quarters, and dined there. Colonel Wilczewski ſent Advice from Plotiſtie, that his advanced Poſts had been attacked by ſome Pruſſian Huſſars, a Regiment whereof advanced towards him. He was of Opinion, that they were poſted there in order to cover the Foragers, and we expect further Accounts from him.

Upon the 9th halted. Several Pruſſian Deſerters were ſent in by Lieutenant Colonel Deſoffi from Prim. Several Spies, who were diſcovered in the Combined Army, were executed. Amongſt whom was a Boy of eleven Years of Age, who was ſent to an Houſe of Correction. By our laſt Accounts from Upper Sileſia, the Detachment ſent from the Pruſſian Army in Sileſia, which advanced through the County of Glatz, was reinforced to the Number of 10 or 12,000 Men. General Naſſau, who commands the ſaid Detachment, is marching to attack the Hungarian Inſurgents, and the other Troops in Upper Sileſia, under the Command of Field Marſhal Count Eſterhaſi.

Upon the 9th we perceived that the Right Wing of the Pruſſians was weakened, and the Advice, which we had received from General Nadaſti and our Tartars, that a great Detachment ment of their Troops had been ſent towards Opoczna, was confirmed; however, we could not find out their Deſign in this Motion.

The Pruſſian Deſerters depoſed, that Forage was very ſcarce in their Camp, and that there was a Mortality amongſt the Horſes.

Prince Charles came to the Duke's Head Quarters to confer with his Highneſs.

Journal of the Army upon the Mayn, under the Command of the Marſhals Traun and Bathiani, from the 5th to the 7th of July, N. S.

On the 5th the Army moved from Gelnhauſen, in order to encamp at Langenrelbold, where they fixed their Head Quarters. They marched in very good Order, and took no Carriages with them but the Cannon and Ammunition Waggons. The Grand Duke of Tuſcany arrived at the Army this Day. We perceived the Enemy alſo in March on the Side of Offenbach.

The 6th halted. The whole Army paſſed in Review before his moſt ſerene Highneſs.

General Baronai advanced towards Windecken with the Van Guard compoſed of 1000 Foot, 800 Horſe, a Body of Auſtrians, and ſome irregular Troops. One Party of theſe poſted themſelves on the Right of the Mayn, in the Villages of Kahle, Oſtheim, Archeim, &c. The Enemy were alſo in Motion on their Side, and every Occaſion was taken on either Side of firing upon each other.

The 7th halted. His Serene Highneſs went to reconnoitre the Enemy's Camp as far as the Mayn, and on the Right as far as the Vanguard of General Baronai.

Orders were given to march the next Morning, and we received Advice, that the French had begun to throw a third Bridge over the River at Hoechſt.

Journal of the Army upon the Mayn, from the 8th to the 11th of July, N. S. dated from Peterweil.

Upon the 8th the Army marched; the Left Wing was poſted between Heldbergen and Windecken upon the Nidder, and the Right between Rendel and Carben. The Head Quarters were fixed at Windecken, General Baronai having the Avant Guard upon the Right, and General Trips with the Irregulars being poſted on the Left. Notice was given in the Camp, that for the future his moſt Serene Highneſs the Grand Duke would give the Word and the Orders upon the Days of March at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, and upon other Days in the Morning, ſo that from henceforth the two Field Marſhals in their Turns will receive their Orders and the Word from his Highneſs. We had Advice that the Enemy remained between Steinheim and Offenbach.

Upon the 9th halted. In the Afternoon the Grand Duke went to reconnoitre the Environs in Front.

Upon the 10th the Army marched and encamped the Right Wing at Nieder Eſchbach, and the Left at Dortelweil towards the Nidder, the Generals Baronai and Trips having the Command of the advanced Guard. We had Advice in the Afternoon, and obſerved ourſelves, that the Enemy were going down the Mayn towards Francfort. General Bernclau, who had been ſent out to reconnoitre Hoechſt, found that the Fortifications there were not extraordinary, and that there was no Cannon left.

Upon the 11th halted. We had repeated Advices that the Enemy were moving off on the Side of Sprenglingen and Gros Gerau, and that they had ſent a Detachment of 2000 Men towards Aſchaffenbourg. Orders were given for our Army to march To-morrow towards Schwalbach, where the Head Quarters are to be fixed. We ſhall move in four Columns, and this March will determine the Fate of Hoechſt.

Vienna, July 7, N. S. The Duke of Aremberg is ſetting out to ſerve under Prince Charles in Bohemia. The Detachment made by the King of Pruſſia, which, joined to the Garriſon of Glatz, is ſaid to be a Body of 10000 Men, has obliged the Inſurgents to abandon all Lower Sileſia. News is arrived here, that the Genoeſe have declared themſelves Auxiliaries to France, and are to furniſh 10000 Men, and a compleat Train of large Artillery.

Vienna, July 8, N. S. This Morning died here his Excellency Count Staremberg, in an advanced Age, one of the Miniſters of the Conference, and ſupreme Director of the Finances.

Dreſden, July 8, N. S. We have Advice from Bohemia, that the King of Pruſſia received 600 Waggons laden with Proviſions upon the 4th Inſtant.

Dreſden, July 11, N. S. The Combined Army, by Letters from Bohemia of the 9th Inſtant, continue in their old Camp near Konigingratz. We have Advice, that Lieutenant General Naſſau, whom the King of Pruſſia detached ſome Days ſince towards Sileſia with about 8000 Men, has obliged the Generals Kehl and Bucco to abandon Patſchau and Camentz. A Corps of 4000 Pruſſian Horſe took Poſt the 9th at Opotſchna.

Berlin, July 10, N. S. It is aſſured here, that the Detachment of the Magdebourg Corps, which was lately at Halle, is returned to Magdebourg, and that the whole Corps will be cantoned thereabouts till further Orders. A very conſiderable Detachment has been lately ſent from the Army in Bohemia, under the Command of General Naſſau, to oppoſe the Incurſions of the Hun-

Hungarian Inſurgents in Silesia, who have made themſelves Maſters of a great Part of that Country. They extend to Patchkaw, Wartha, and Franckenſteyn. General Feſtetitz, with the Avant Guard, is advancing to Streelen, and he is followed by the Generals Caroli and Eſterhaſi, with a very conſiderable Body of Men.

Berlin, July 13, N. S. The King of Pruſſia has given the late Count Truſches's Regiment to General Polentz. The Magdebourg Corps continue in their Cantonments. We have frequent Advices from Bohemia, but they bring nothing of Moment. Skirmiſhes daily happen between the two Armies, without any conſiderable Loſſes on either Side.

Hanover, July 11, N. S. This Morning M. de Moeſting, Gentleman of the Bed-Chamber to the Prince Royal of Denmark, arrived at Herrnhauſen, being ſent from the ſaid Prince expreſs to his Majeſty, with the joyful News of her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs of Denmark's having been ſafely delivered of a Prince on the 7th Inſtant.

Grammont Camp, July 6, N. S. The Day after we changed our Camp, the French came into the Plain of Leſſines ſo thick, that the Huſſars were forced to quit it before they could be ſuſtained. The Day following the whole French Army advanced to within a ſhort League of Grammont, and ſeemed as if they intended to attack us; whereupon ſome Battalions were ſent into Grammont, with twelve Pieces of Cannon. The whole Army was under Arms till the French encamped, which they did about Three of the Clock in the Afternoon. This Morning about Four the whole French Army put itſelf in Motion, upon which our Army ſtood to their Arms; they marched and countermarched ten Hours, and at laſt encamped about the Town of Grammont on the other Side the River, about a League Diſtance every Way.

From the Camp of the Allies at Meerbeck, July 11, N. S.

Upon the 7th, at Eleven o'Clock at Night, we had Advice that the Enemy were under Arms, and in Motion to attack us; on which our whole Army was ordered out, and formed itſelf in Order of Battle with great Expedition and Alacrity. About One in the Morning the Enemy beat the General, and repeated it three Times, however they did not march till Noon, and continued marching and countermarching till Eight of the Clock at Night, when they were not a League and a half diſtant from us.

Hague, July 16, N. S. According to the freſheſt Advices from the Allied Army in the Netherlands, it was retired behind the Canal of Bruſſels, and the River Senne; and had on the 15th Inſtant its Head Quarters at Dieghem. The French King had his at Borſt, a Village between Aloſt and Oudenarde; the Siege of which latter Place was thought to be begun. There are as yet no Accounts of the French having made themſelves Maſters of the Citadel of Ghent, or of the Town of Bruges. General Molcke, with the Squadrons he ſaved out of Ghent, is arrived at Sas de Gand. The great Inundation is formed at Dendermonde; and a Detachment of 2000 Men is ſent from the Army to Antwerp. Sixty Dutch Cannoneers are gone to Bruſſels at the Requeſt of Count Caunits; and the States have likewiſe ſent Orders to the Governors of Sluys, Hulſt, Lillo, and Bergen-op-zoom, to open their Great Sluices, as it is ſuppoſed has been done at Oſtend. From the Mayn there is Advice of the 12th Inſtant, that the Great Duke was arrived at Francfort; and that Prince Conti was drawing his Army towards Gros-Gerau, and ſeemed to be preparing for a Repaſſage of the Rhine at Oppenheim. On the 7th Inſtant about Eleven o'Clock in the Forenoon, her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs of Denmark was moſt happily delivered of a Prince, who was the ſame Day baptized by the Name of Chriſtian, and received the Order of the Elephant.

Hague, July 20, N. S. According to the freſheſt Advices from the Army in the Netherlands, the French had not yet begun the Siege of Oudenarde. The ſmall Number of Troops that retired into the Citadel of Ghent when the French ſurpriſed the Town, having obliged them to bring heavy Artillery before it, and waited till they had raiſed a Battery, were forced to ſurrender themſelves Priſoners of War. The Governor of Sluys in Flanders having received Orders to form the great Inundation by cutting a Dyke, ſent out two Engineers and a Detachment of 25 Men to cover the Workmen; but the Peaſants of the Neighbourhood hearing this, run to their Arms, fell upon this Detachment, killed the two Engineers, and carried off the Detachment to the French, to whom they at the ſame Time ſubmitted themſelves, and claimed their Protection. By exact Liſts of the two Armies now on the Rhine, it appears, that the Great Duke's conſiſts of 101 Squadrons, and 66 Battalions; and the French of 76 Battalions and 114 Squadrons; but the Strength of the Battalions and Squadrons in the firſt, makes more than Amends for the Exceedings in the Numbers of the laſt. The Great Duke had his Quarters on the 13th Inſtant at Hocheim. General Bernclau was advanced to Biberich, and General Trips had paſſed the Mayne at Hoechſt, which Poſt the French, after having burnt their Bridges, abandoned at the Approach of that General.
